

Thank you for choosing Duke Health for your healthcare needs. Your provider ordered an Upper GI procedure for you. Please review the information about your procedure to help you prepare. If you have questions about your procedure, appointment, or prep, please call Duke Gastroenterology (GI) at (919) 684-6437.

What is an Upper GI Procedure

An Upper GI endoscopy (EGD) is an exam of your upper GI tract, including the esophagus, stomach, and duodenum. The doctor will place a flexible tube into your mouth and pass it to your small intestines. More tests may be performed, like taking tissue samples (biopsies) and removing polyps. You will receive IV sedation to help you sleep and stay comfortable during your procedure. Your provider selected your procedure prep based on your health history. Your procedure prep is Clears Extended Prep.

Planning for Your Procedure – At least TWO (2) WEEKS Before Your Procedure

- Please plan to keep the entire day open for your procedure, as your arrival time may be updated. If your arrival time is changed, we will call you. The call may come from an unknown number.
- Log in to your My Duke Health account to review your procedure appointment and preparation details.
- Select the Messages icon to review and print your appointment letter. This letter includes your procedure location, date, and arrival time.
- Select the Education icon to review and print your GI procedure preparation instructions.
- Put your appointment letter and procedure prep instructions in a safe place, like on your refrigerator. Review the information on confirming your procedure.
- Ask a family member or friend to drive you to your procedure, stay with you, and drive you home. Your driver needs to stay in the endoscopy department during your procedure. Your driver must be an adult over 18 with a valid driver's license. You cannot go home in a taxi, bus, or ride-share.
- For their safety, children are not allowed in the procedure area. Please make childcare arrangements.
- Plan to be in the GI department for about 2 to 4 hours, depending on your scheduled procedure.
- Since you will receive IV sedation for your procedure, you cannot drive or work for the rest of the day.
- If you have diabetes, contact your diabetes provider to ask if you need to adjust your medicine or insulin.
- If you take medicine that thins your blood, ask your provider if and how long you need to hold your medicine. (Examples Coumadin, Pradaxa, Eliquis, Xarelto, Plavix, Effient, or Brilinta).

Confirmation Process: Confirm your appointment date and time at least two (2) weeks before your procedure.

You can only confirm in any one of the following ways:

- My Duke Health account: Log in to your account 14 days before your procedure and follow the steps to confirm your procedure.
- Care Convoy app: Download the app, log in, and select “Confirm Procedure.”
- Through the GI team: Reply to the message from the GI team in your My Duke Health account or answer/return our phone call to confirm your procedure.
- Important: If you do not confirm your procedure, it will be canceled.

GI Procedure Support

- Duke GI offers patients free access to the Care Convoy® mobile health app. This app was created for Duke GI patients to support you through your GI procedure.
- Care Convoy® provides step-by-step guidance for your preparation. It helps you understand what to do and when. You can also confirm your procedure appointment in the app.
- Download the app from Google Play or the Apple App Store by using this QR code. You may also receive an email from Care Convoy® with instructions for downloading and using the app.
